

Kittens

We are a registered, serious hobby breeder (since 1998) and prefer to give our kittens to enthusiasts and have them neutered early.

All of our cats are loved and valued members of the family; therefore we only have very few litters (only one or two a year) which we raise with love. We only give our kittens to their new homes after careful consideration. We have some requirements for the new parents of our kittens. We give our kittens from 14-weeks-old, chipped, wormed, vaccinated completely against feline viral rhinotracheitis/feline panleukopenia with a veterinary health certificate and pet protection agreement.

We deliver our babies to their new house personally, complete with a copy of all test results (and relevant certificates) of their parents (HCM 1, SMA, PKD and HCM-screened). The new parents receive a package with the little one's usual food and toy. It is very important to us to stay in regular contact with the new owners and, should there be any issues, we are available to assist them with advice and support at any time. Our babies are our children and we are always there for them, even in their new homes!

We do not sell for the cats to be kept outdoors and we do not give any kittens to mass breeders or Maine Coon factories. We do not give animals to animal dealers, non-registered illegal breeders or propagators of crossbreeds!

No delivery if to be allowed to run free – and not to single cat homes either!
